

Disaster Preparedness

☺ = Spanish speaking agency

☺ Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA): www.fema.gov

Disaster Assistance: (800) 621-FEMA

En español: www.fema.gov/spanish

Disaster preparation and management; web site includes information on preparation for many types of natural and other disasters.

PrepareNow.org: www.preparenow.org

Disaster information for special needs and vulnerable populations.

☺Salvation Army: www.salvationarmyusa.org, 542-0981

Provides material, physical, emotional, and spiritual comfort after a disaster has taken place, including food, water, shelter, and cleanup assistance; located at 115 Pierce Street in Santa Rosa.

Sonoma County Dept of Emergency Services: www.sonoma-county.org/des

Web site includes plenty of information on disaster preparedness in Sonoma County.

☺ Sonoma County Red Cross: www.arcsm.org, 577-7600

Flood, fire, earthquake, and other natural disaster relief; disaster preparedness kits available; workshops, public education, certification and training. Located at 5297 Aero Drive in Santa Rosa

Help with locating loved ones serving in the U.S. Military--Military Emergencies--577-7606

West County Community Services: www.westcountyservices.org/pages/emergency.html, 823-1640

Works closely with county agencies, the Salvation Army and the Red Cross to provide support during flood and other disaster situations; provide temporary shelter, food, blankets, etc; loan out equipment; currently organizing local West County resource agencies for coordinated training and information sharing to that response time during a disaster can be reduced.